25.1. Proposals to Amend the Appendices of the Convention

CMS COP12 Regional Preparatory Workshop for Oceania

23-28 OCTOBER 2017
MANILA PHILIPPINES

Melanie Virtue
Head of Aquatic Species Unit
28-30 August 2017
Brisbane, Australia

The two Appendixes of CMS:

- Appendix I comprises migratory species that are in danger of extinction. The taking of the species is prohibited, with very restricted scope for exceptions.
- Appendix II covers migratory species that have an unfavourable conservation status, their taking is allowed but restricted.

Listing Process

1. Member States submit proposals for amendments of species to the Appendices
2. The Scientific Council reviews the proposals and advises the COP in their scientific function
3. Voting for the proposals will take place at the COP. A proposal is accepted if 2/3 of the Parties give their approbation.
4. Modification of the Appendices shall enter in force after 90 days.

Listing proposals include:

- Classification of the species
- Biological data, including distribution of species, population...
- Data that describes the direct and indirect threats to the conservation of the species.
- Protection status
- Comments of Range States

Appendix I:

No.	Scientific Name	Common Name	Party
1	Primates Hominidae Pan troglodytes *	Chimpanzee	Congo and the United Republic of Tanzania
2	Carnivora Ursidae Ursus arctos isabellinus	Gobi Bear	Mongolia
3	Carnivora Phocidae Pusa caspica *	Caspian Seal	I.R. Iran
4	Perrisodactyla Equidae Equus africanus *	African Wild Ass	Eritrea

*also proposed for Appendix II

Importance at COP

- Appendixes of CMS build the basis of all CMS' instruments
- The adding of a new species to the Appendixes grants it international cooperation for its conservation.
- It should be focused on threatened or endangered species.
- New species should be added based on reliable scientific evidence
