V. Protected Areas

1	Are migratory species taken into account in the selection, establishment and management of protected areas in your country? <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No If Yes, please provide details: Article 4 of EC Wild Birds Directive (79/409/EEC) requires from Member States to establish Special Protection Areas (SPA) where these are an appropriate means of conserving Annex I and/or migratory bird species. This is implemented in the Republic of Slovenia through the Nature Conservation Act (ZON – UPB2, OJ RS 96/04) and governmental Decree on special conservation areas (OJ RS, 49/04). Migratory bird species are therefore taken into account in the selection of SPAs. Habitats Directive requires a similar procedure in establishing Sites of Community Interest (SCI), therefore migratory species other than birds are taken into account in selecting SCIs. The Nature Conservation Act (ZON – UPB2, OJ RS, 96/04) gives a framework for drafting and adoption of management plans of parks (national, regional, landscape). It gives also a framework for the Natura 2000 management programme. Draft management plans for parks are prepared by park authorities (see section 3.5). Operational programme - Natura 2000 management programme was prepared by the Ministry of the Environment and Spatial Planning. Operational programme - Natura 2000 management programme determines measures and actions aimed at ensuring favourable conservation status of the majority of qualifying species for each SPA and SCI (http://www.natura2000.gov.si/uploads/tx_library/NATURA_2000-ANG-01.pdf). Therefore in management of Natura 2000 sites (SPAs and SCIs) migratory species are taken into account. Management plans for protected areas - parks (MP) were prepared or are in preparation for some protected areas: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. REMARKS

References from Geister (1995) refer to breeding populations (some of them also have wintering populations in Slovenia), references from Sovinc (1994) refer to wintering populations and references from Božic (2001b) refer to migratory and vagrant species. All migratory and vagrant species with ≥ 5 observations in Slovenia (Božic 2001b) are listed in the above table. Božic (2001b) does not contain distribution maps.

All species of each of the Families below are listed in Appendix II. If your country is a Range State for any of the species in these Families, please enter the species name in the first column, under the relevant Family heading. Please indicate (with a 'X') whether your country is a Range State or the species is extinct and, where appropriate, please provide published distribution references. (Space is provided for ten species in each Family. If additional lines are required, please attach the information as an annex).

REMARKS

References from Geister (1995) refer to breeding populations (some of them also have wintering populations in Slovenia), references from Sovinc (1994) refer to wintering populations and references from Božic (2001b) refer to migratory and vagrant species. All migratory and vagrant species with ≥ 5 observations in Slovenia (Božic 2001b) are listed in the above table. Božic (2001b) does not contain distribution maps. According to the national Red list of endangered breeding bird species (OJ RS, no. 82/2002) the following species from the above table have become extinct since Ornithological atlas of Slovenia was published (Geister 1995): Gyps fulvus (occurs now only on migration), Circus pygargus (species is not mentioned as a breeder in Geister 1995), Luscinia svecica (occurs now only on migration, species is not mentioned as a breeder in Geister 1995), Oenanthe hispanica. According to the same Red list Milvus milvus is not considered a breeding species in Slovenia but is mentioned in Geister (1995) as a confirmed breeder on one location.
